Ms. Glassmeyer concentrates her practice in patent and trademark prosecution and in patent evaluation and investigation, with a focus on chemicals, materials and life sciences. She manages the global IP portfolios for companies ranging from start-ups to large multi-national concerns. In this capacity, she oversees complex and contested non-US prosecution in Asia, Europe and Canada, including oppositions.

Industry Experience

Prior to becoming an attorney, Ms. Glassmeyer was an organic chemist with focus on quantitative analysis, quality assurance and environmental monitoring and remediation. She has significant experience in the business and logistical issues surrounding the transportation, manufacture and processing of hazardous materials.
