

Practice Area | Litigation

Our litigation team focuses on providing exceptional strategic advice to prevail in complex litigation throughout the United States and abroad.

Our Capabilities

Our attorneys are leaders in commercial, employment and intellectual property litigation. No problem is too big or too small for our firm. Our litigation team represents large, international corporations, individual clients and everything in between. We handle contested matters throughout the country, including scores of complex trials in federal and state courts. Our attorneys also litigate and appeal, matters before the International Trade Commission and the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

We handle the most sophisticated commercial disputes, achieving winning results in “bet-the-company” litigation. We have tried and won novel employment law matters from coast to coast. When sophisticated litigation issues involve highly specialized technical knowledge, we have a deep bench of attorneys who have worked in the field, understand the products at issue and can provide practical advice.

Our patent litigators are frequently sought out to co-counsel complex intellectual property litigation matters in the United States and abroad. Leading global firms have relied on the breadth and depth of our knowledge to develop key aspects of challenging cases in significant patent litigation.

Track Record of Results

While no law firm can deliver a victory in every case, we have achieved favorable results in the substantial majority of matters, frequently prevailing when opposing parties are represented by national firms. We win because we partner with our clients to understand their products, their industries and their goals. With that knowledge, we provide the best strategic advice to achieve our client’s legal and business objectives.

A Fresh Approach

Our success stems from tightly aligning our work to our client’s interest of expediting resolution and achieving a favorable, but practical solution. We target the core elements of the case that will lead to victory and strive to keep clients continuously informed as to costs, strategies and risks.

Use of Technology

Our litigators effectively use secure, cloud-based document management and paperless deposition to manage cases in courts throughout the country and the world. We use innovative yet affordable e-discovery solutions and comprehensive case management software including CaseMap and TextMap to reduce costs and improve results. Young Basile is committed to continuous improvement of our technology best practices that ensure our litigators deliver results in large or small cases, either locally, nationally, or internationally.